The call aims to disseminate and reward the best research conducted by a young scholar on social and political issues that:

- is based on empirical data (without preferences for the methodological approach adopted) and a rigorous theoretical framework;
- handle emerging issue or innovative research hypothesis;
- is fertile in terms of future research perspectives.

The three best articles will be published in the first issue of 2019 of the journal, they will receive a free two-year subscription and they will be invited to a workshop in Bologna.

The call is open to all young scholars (under 35 years old) of sociological and political disciplines. The works must be original, unpublished and must be submitted exclusively to the journal. Scholars wishing to participate can send their proposal directly through the journal's website https://www.mulino.it/riviste/issn/1120-9488 starting from 15th of May 2018 until 27th of September 2018.

Candidates must follow journal’s editorial guidelines available on the website. The articles, with a maximum length of 60,000 characters (including notes and bibliography), will be submitted to a double-blind review. Feedback, positive or negative, will be sent to the authors by 5th of November 2018.

Chief-Editor: Laura Sartori Editorial Board: Dario Tuorto (Vicedirettore) Alberta Andreotti, Davide Arcidiacono, Laura Azzolina, Ferruccio Biolcati Rinaldi, Paolo Boccagni, Paola Bordandini, Luciano Brancaccio, Tiziana Caponio, Nicola De Luigi, Giulia Dotti Sani, Roberto Impicciatore, Sveva Magaraggia, Vittorio Mete, Manuela Moschella, Moris Triventi.

Coordinator of the call: Davide Arcidiacono (davideeluca.arcidiacono@unicatt.it) e Laura Azzolina (laura.azzolina@unipa.it)